ELECTORAL HISTORY OF ONTARIO

CANDIDATES AND RESULTS

WITH STATISTICS FROM THE RECORDS 1867—1982

COMPILED AND PUBLISHED BY THE OFFICE OF THE CHIEF ELECTION OFFICER

A

PREFACE

This volume is part of a three volume Electoral History of Ontario covering the years 1867 - 1982 published by the Office of the Chief Election Officer. The other two are:

"Redistribution of Districts" and "Results by District"

There are three main divisions herein:

- Candidates and Results, alphabetically by surname
- Composition of each Legislature, with each Member's name, political interest and Electoral District
- Composition of each Cabinet, by Portfolio with the name of the Minister

Several statistical summaries and comparison tables have also been included at the front.

Although it may be at variance with that shown in other publications, the information on the political interest of some of the candidates at early elections and even up to 1919, has been taken from unofficial records maintained in the Office of the Chief Election Officer. The original sources of many of these political designations are unknown.

For official poll by poll results and totals, reference should be made to the returns which for all general elections and most by-elections are available on microfiche at college and university libraries as well as at the Legislative Library of Ontario and at the Office of the Chief Election Officer in Toronto.

It is hoped that any person who wishes to comment on or who can provide evidence of any errors in or omissions from the information in this volume would not hesitate to contact the Office of the Chief Election Officer of Ontario with such details for possible inclusion in future editions and other publications.

PREFACE TO

CANDIDATES AND RESULTS SECTION

From 1867 until 1982, approximately 5500 candidates have been nominated to contest 32 Provincial General Elections and some 335 By-elections in Ontario. Approximately 3600 persons were candidates at only one election, some, such as Mr. Playfair in Lanark South in 1867 and Mr. Appelbe in Halton in 1871 who ran only once received no votes at all. Harry Nixon in Brant contested thirteen elections from 1919 to 1959 and was elected each time. Others such as Robert Enoch Butler in Oxford North from 1904 to 1919 and Marshall Seymour Madole in Lennox from 1902 to 1914, each ran five times in a row and were defeated each time.

In electoral districts where only one candidate contested an election, that person was declared elected by acclamation. Of the seven times Oliver Mowat was elected in Oxford North he was acclaimed four times from 1872 to 1894. Peter Gow was acclaimed three times in a row of the four times he was elected in Wellington South from 1867 to 1875. As of 1982, the last acclamation occured at the General Election in 1929 and at two by-elections in 1958.

The headings on each page display several symbols. The A/AA refers to candidates with identical names who for listing purposes are labelled, following their given names or initials, with an "A" or "AA". A number in the column headed "C" shows the total number of candidates contesting that election in that Electoral District. An "R" on any line after the political interest designation indicates that the votes shown were the result of a recount held by a Judge.

On the following pages, candidates' names are arranged alphabetically by surname and are shown with the name or names of the Electoral District in which they contested the election. The entries for each candidate are divided into three categories; Elections, Cabinet Service and Remarks. Each election line gives the date, whether it was a "By" (By-election) or "Gen" (General Election). The full date of some early elections is not known. Shown as well is the number of valid votes polled and the percentage obtained of the total cast. At the elections of 1867 and 1871 there was open voting. The secret ballot was not used until the 1875 election. If the candidate was "elected", the number of the Legislature is shown.

The information on the political interest shown or not shown for some candidates at early elections and even up to 1919, has been taken from unofficial records in the Office of the Chief Election Officer. The original sources of many of these political designations is unknown.

Following the political interest designation of each elected Member is a date. If prefixed with an asterisk (*) this is the date that the Member was appointed to a Cabinet position which is shown following the Members' election detail. A double symbol such as asterisks () or number signs (##) indicates a date other than dissolution of the Legislature which is the date shown without any prefixing symbols. The double symbols refer to specific entries such as "Died" or "Resigned" which are set out in the General Remarks section following the "Cabinet" listing, if any.

The Cabinet service if any is set out by the name of the Premier and the Cabinet number. Shown for each Cabinet line is an indication of how many different people have held that particular portfolio since 1867 with an "R" indicating if the entry represents a re-appointment.

The dates of appointment and resignation for each position are shown by year and month only since records differ as to the actual day (day the appointment was announced or signed v. the day the person was sworn in). Similarly for the Cabinet position termination, the day may be the day the termination was announced or the day the resignation was signed or was effective.

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURES SECTION

The number of Members is determined by the number of Electoral Districts in effect at the time of the General Election, although two Toronto districts each elected three members from one set of candidates in 1886 and 1890 and the district of the City of Ottawa was represented by two Members from one set of candidates from 1894 to 1903. As well, some Toronto districts from 1908 up to 1925 were divided into Seats "A" and "B" with a separate set of candidates for each.

The number of Electoral Districts is set down by Redistribution Commissions appointed periodically by the Government to look at current population figures and existing boundaries and to recommend changes.

There is a new Legislature after each General Election. On the following pages each Legislature is shown by a Legislature number, starting with number one elected at the 1867 Election. The heading for each shows the date of the General Election and the date of dissolution. Shown as well is the total number of seats in each Legislature.

The Members elected at the General Election are listed alphabetically by their surnames with the political interest and the Electoral District each represents. For those members who dies, resigned or for some other reason did not serve until the dissolution date, that other date is shown as completely as early records allow.

Following the list of Members elected at the General Election is a list, chronologically by date, of any by-elections held to fill any vacant seats which occured after the General Election.

PREFACE TO

MEMBERS OF CABINETS SECTION

Up to 1941, legislation required that any person appointed to the Cabinet, other than as Minister without Portfolio, must be confirmed by the electorate at a by-election. It may be noted that during the last few years leading up to 1941 this requirement was not always followed. Quite often these elections were not contested by the Opposition Party and the Minister was elected by acclamation. Of the seven times Oliver Mowat was elected in Oxford North he was acclaimed four times from 1872 to 1894. Peter Gow was acclaimed three times in a row of the four times he was elected in Wellington South from 1867 to 1875.

On the following pages each Cabinet is shown by Cabinet number, starting with number one in 1867. The heading for each gives the date the Cabinet was formed and the date the Cabinet resigned.

Cabinet portfolios are listed alphabetically by title with the period of service and the name of the Cabinet Minister. Shown as a prefix to each entry line is an "P" indicating if the Minister listed was a re-appointment, having held the same portfolio previously with an indication of how many different people have held the portfolio under that particular name since 1867. James Alexander Charles Auld served under two Premiers and held ten different Cabinet positions. Thomas Laird Kennedy held the portfolio of Agriculture Minister under five Premiers, being re-appointed four times.

The dates of appointment and resignation for each Cabinet Minister are shown by year and month only since records differ as to the actual day (day announced v. day appointment signed v. day sworn or day resignation announced v. day resignation signed, etc.)
